VODŇANY ŽIJOU

měsíčník stejnojmenného občanského sdružení

Počtová mapa se otevírá všem str. 02

PAVEL JANŠTA
1983, Vodňany
předseda občanského sdružení Vodňany žijou, absolvent studia politologie a mezinárodních vztahů na FSV UK v Praze

Již 26 let stírám nohama kočičí hlavy na náměstí Svobody. Kola mého kočárku postupně vysušily porevoluční dětské botičky, sandály v letním páru a pohorky za (podzimních) plískanic. V posledních letech jsem však nechával hlavy vodňanských koček i na dlouhé měsíce beze stopy. Studoval jsem v české metropoli i zahraničí, cestoval do světa krajů, kde si kočky s líškami dávají dobrou noc. Chtěl jsem vidět, jak se žije jinde, dozvědět se, jak vypadají všechna ta místa z barevných cestopisů i mých klukovských snů.

On the road - July and August 2009

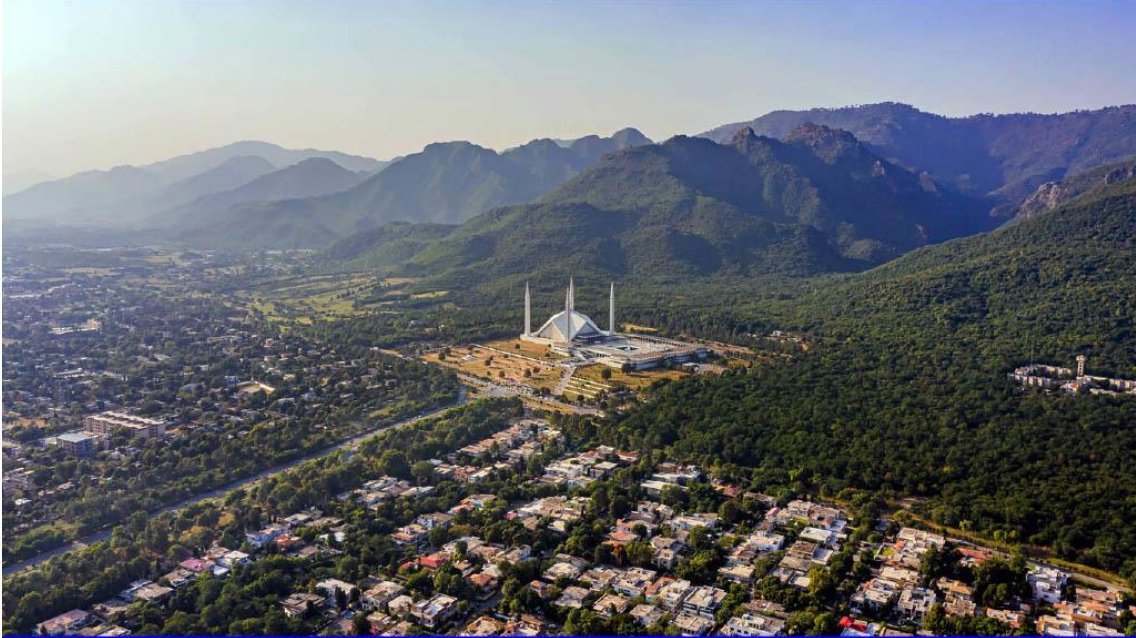

Pakistan → China → South Korea

16 000 km by land and by sea

Many living cities and towns ...

Pakistan - Islamabad (2 million population)

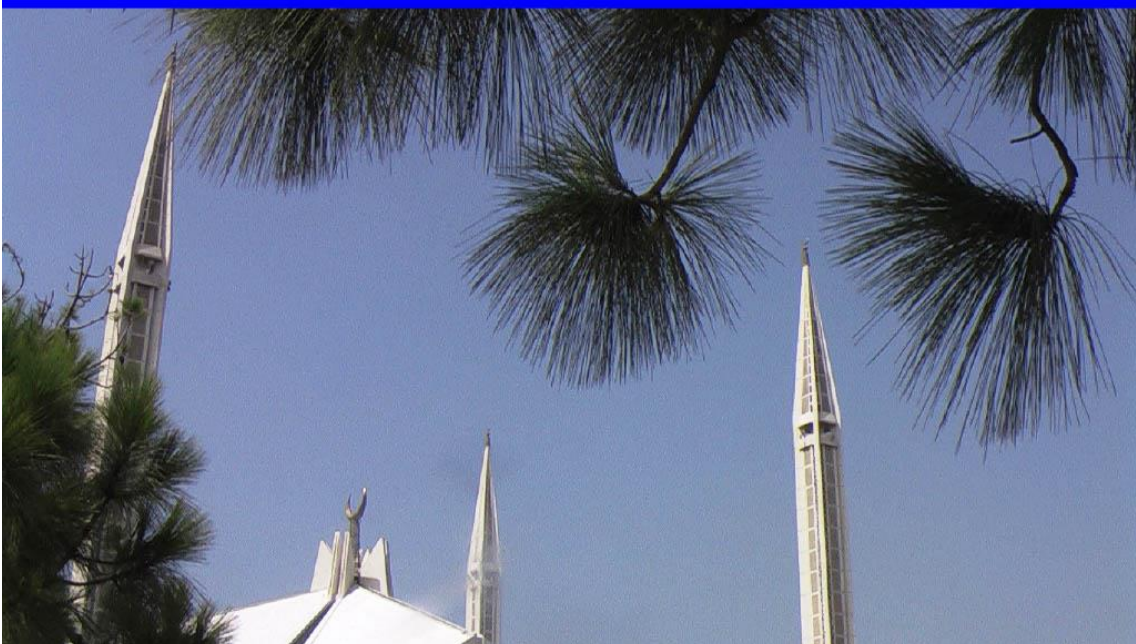

The start of my journey ...

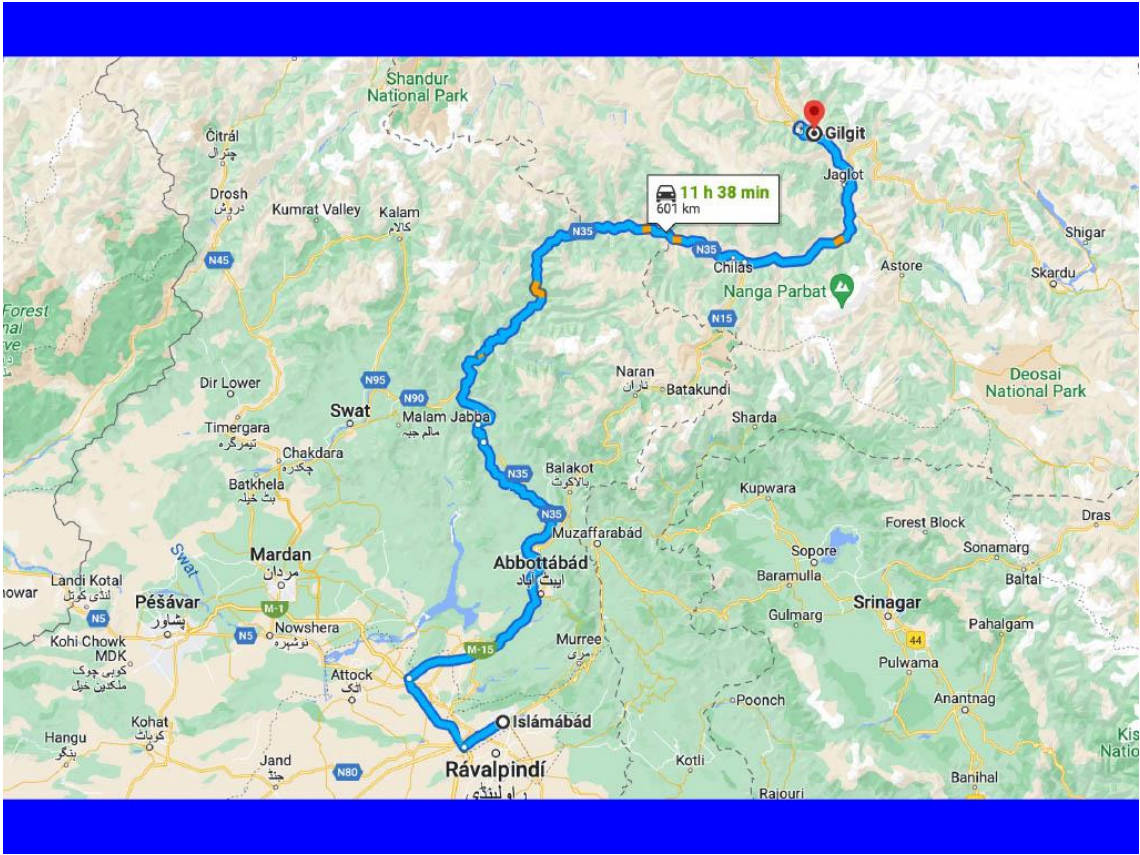

You start to see things from a new perspective...

ninth-highest mountain on Earth, its summit at 8,126 m above sea level

the nickname Killer Mountain for its high number of climber fatalities

Pakistan – Gilgit (220 000 population)

a hub for mountaineering expeditions in the Karakoram mountain range

Karakoram Highway

one of the highest paved roads in the world
- Khunjerab Pass 4,714 m

Due to its high elevation and the difficult conditions under which it was constructed...

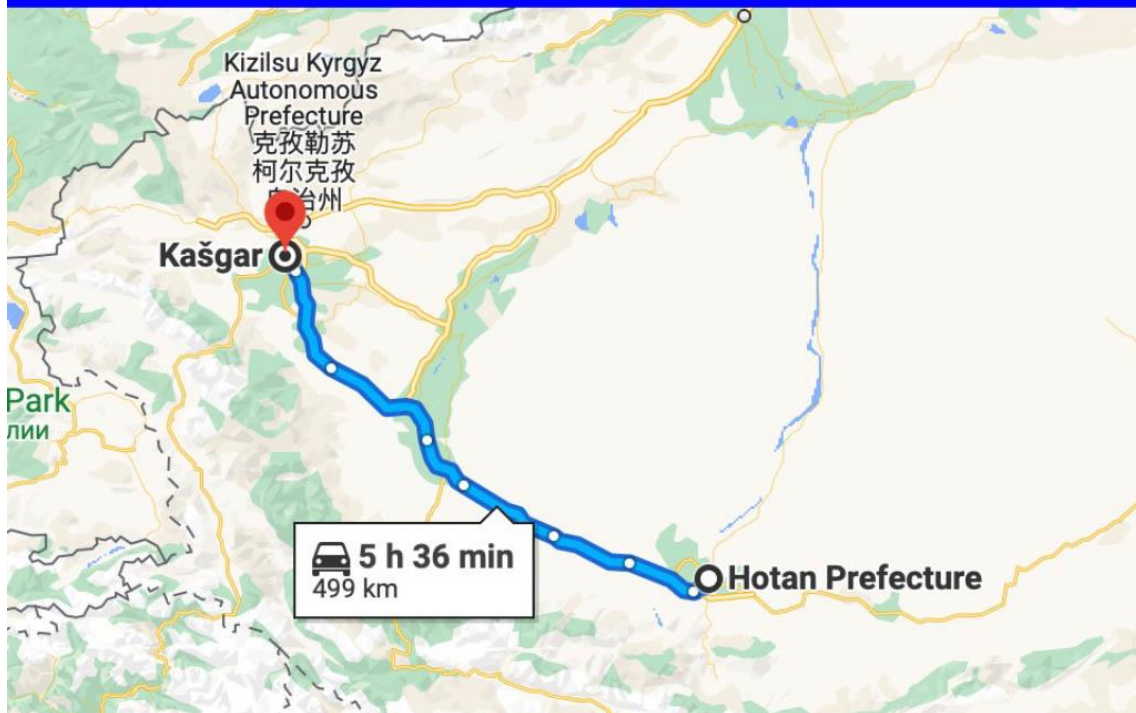

...it is often referred to as the Eighth Wonder of the World

China – Kashgar (700 000 population)

one of the westernmost cities of China, near the border with Afghanistan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan and Pakistan

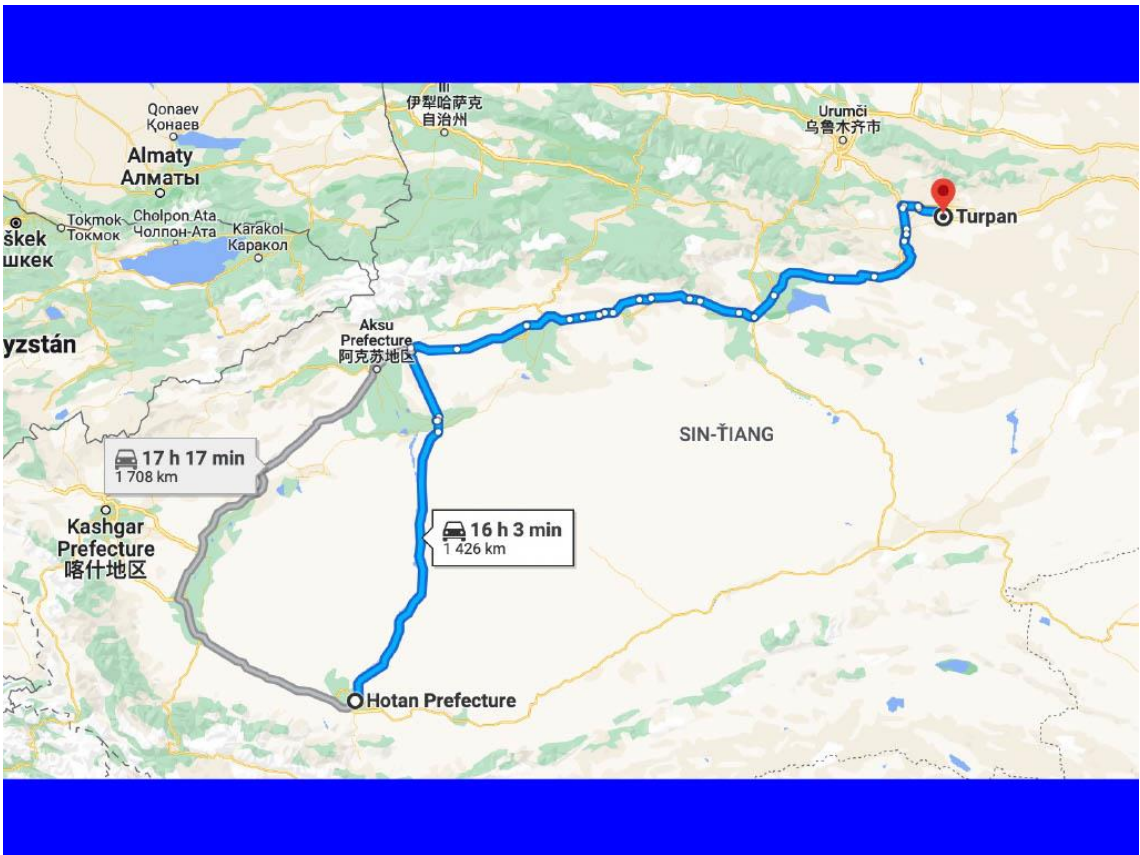

China - Hotan (400 000 population)

a major oasis town in southwestern Xinjiang

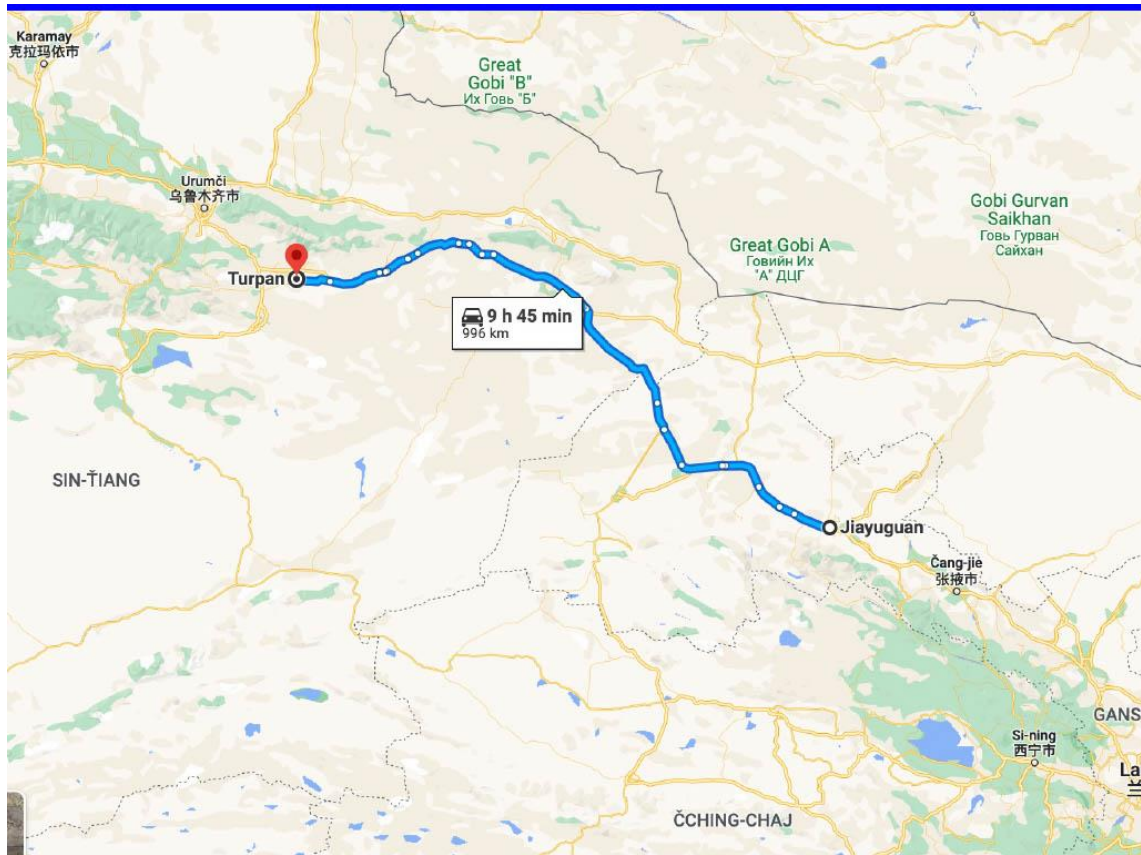

China - Turpan (630 000 population)

historically a fertile oasis along the Silk Road

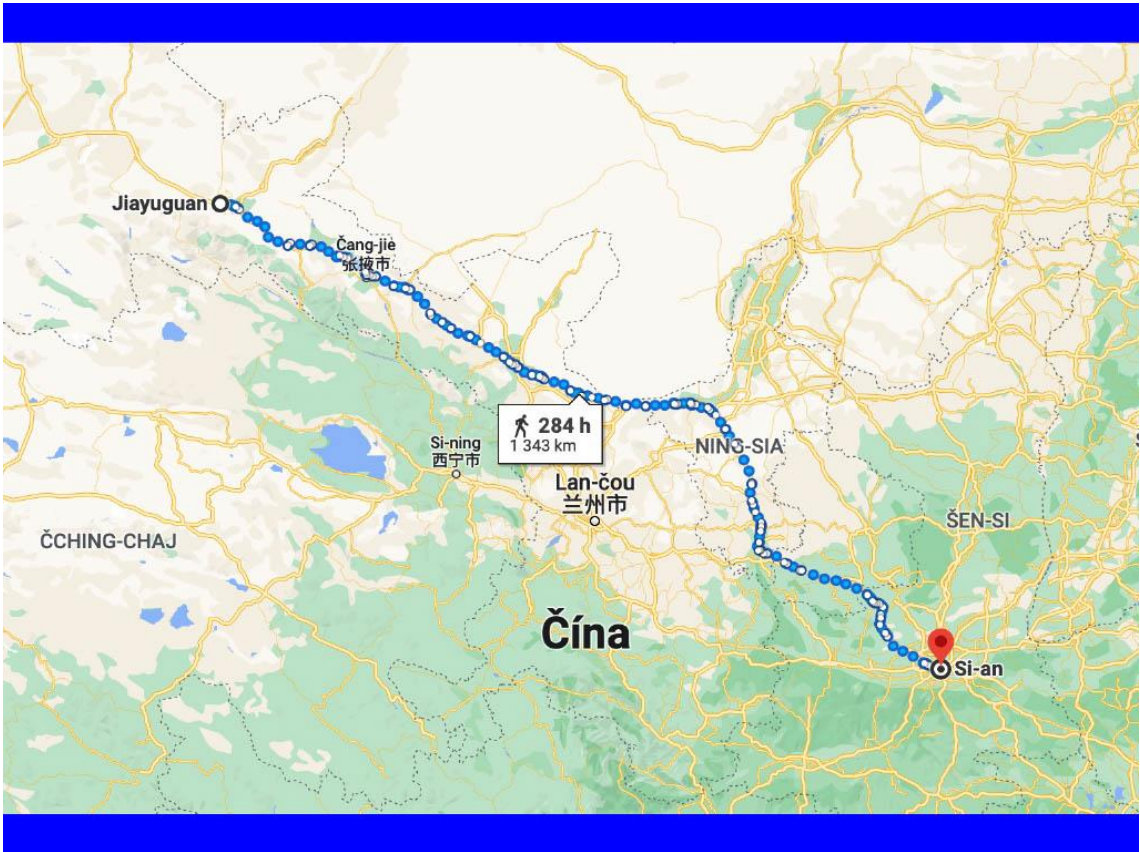

China - Jiayuguan (315 000 population)

The fortress at Jiayuguan is situated at the end of the Great Wall of China

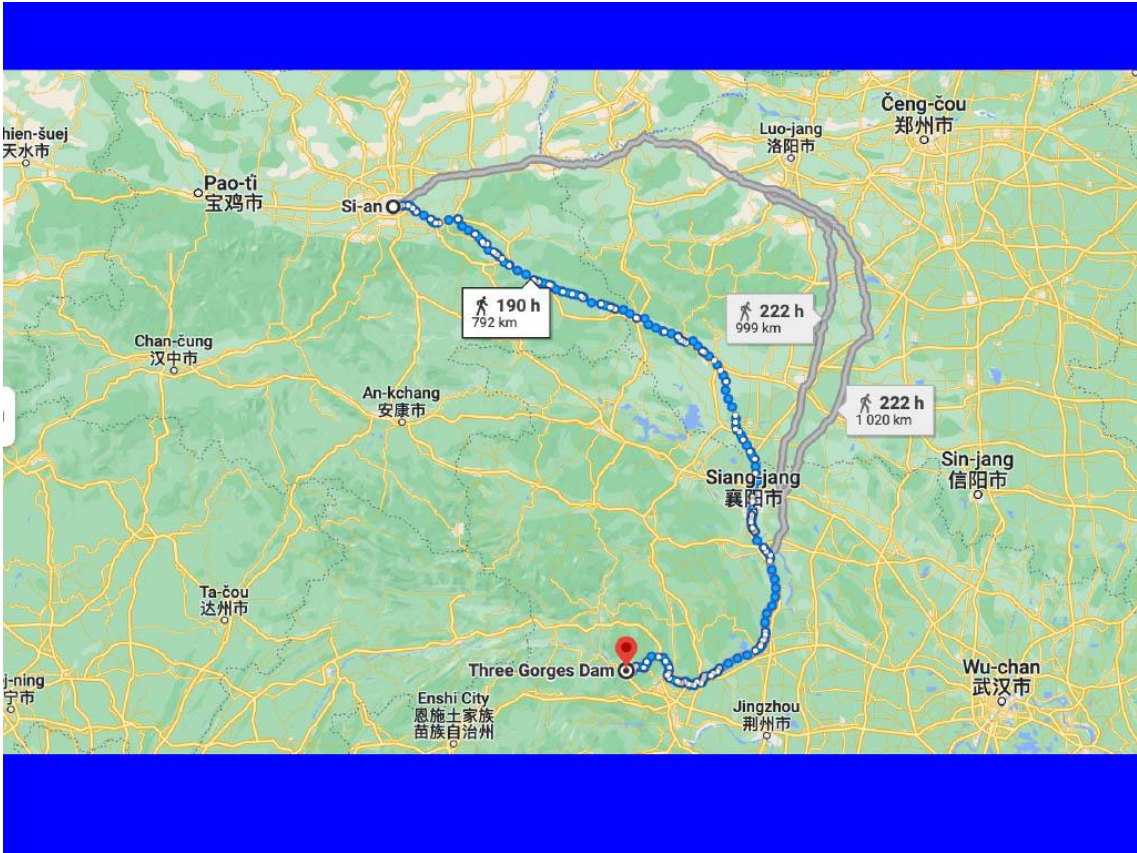

China - Xian (13 million population)

The city is the starting point of the Silk Road and home to the Terracotta Army

The world's largest power station... but also ecological issue

China - Ganzhou (9 million population) not very well known, but I spent most of my time here...

"I've already finished my studies and found out that there are great people and places everywhere in the world, but I'm mostly drawn back home anyway.

I love it here and I want to live here. However, I don't want to go to other cities for culture and social events, I would like to enjoy them here. I don't want to drag myself out into the world anymore, but I would like to bring at least a little bit of the world here."

"During my studies and travels abroad I have met many outstanding, talented and active people. I reached out to them and to my friends and other people of good will here in Vodnany.

Together, we founded the civic association 'Living Vodňany' (Vodňany žijou), which will organize a cultural festival, an architecture workshop, a photography seminar, several educational events and happenings during the autumn."

THE ADAPTIVE CYCLE

Adaptive Cycle model

A model of change in complex systems developed by an interdisciplinary group of hundreds of scientists, which applies generally to complex adaptive systems, ranging in size from cells to ecosystems, and is equally applicable to human systems, such as markets and industries. According to the model, every complex system passes through a life cycle consisting of four phases: growth, conservation, release and reorganization, which initiates the next cycle.
